

Several Full Time Applications Development Engineer Openings, Schaumburg, IL;

Overview of Positions

Plan, design, engineer, develop, implement, and troubleshoot infrastructure technologies on the customer-servicing network. Provide subject matter expertise around specific technologies. Provide project management for the deployment of customer-servicing projects. Act as vendor interface for support of applications and technologies. Evaluate and implement new technologies, policies, and procedures for business network operations

The individual will have the ability to work in an application development environment with mature technologies as well as leading edge programming languages. Act as vendor interface for support of applications and technologies as well as lead cross-functional deployments. Evaluate and implement new technologies, policies, and procedures for business network operations

Education/Skills in one of following areas required:

Applications Development Engineer - Application DBA

(Work in a Data Warehousing environment that holds telecommunication switch information.)

Bachelor's degree in Information Technology Computer Science or Systems Engineering preferred.

3 to 5 years relevant work experience in:

Specific Skill set: PL/SQL; Experience as an Application DBA; experience developing data catalogs in Cognos; experience in data warehousing; ETL software; experience with IBM Prospect

Applications Development Engineer - Fault Management

(Partner with National Operations Center, writing active and passive alarms for new and existing equipment in out network. Areas supported include Surveillance, Performance and Capacity Engineering. Support adds/changes by writing alarms for switches, routers, etc. Alarms are written and maintained in a Perl-like environment.)

Bachelor's degree in Information Technology Computer Science or Systems Engineering preferred.

3 to 5 years relevant work experience in:

Specific Skill set: Tivoli Netcool, Agilent NeteXpert, Micromuse, Perl, Remedy or other change management system

Applications Deployment Engineer - Networking

(Develop and configure data performance applications to measure the various aspects of network performance so that network operations can be maintained at a high level of reliability.)

Bachelor's degree in Information Technology Computer Science or Systems Engineering preferred.

3 to 5 years relevant work experience in:

Specific Skill set: InfoVista; NetScout; Netflow; Radcom; Wireless Network Guardian; TCP/IP; IT Service Management (ITSM), Tivoli Management Suite